

The Monthly Oracle

ENERGETIC ETI- QUETTE

When we work on behalf of the 'Management Upstairs' there are certain codes of conduct that are required. First we need to understand just how honored we are to be in the presence of higher frequencies. Those frequencies will be fed through the person facilitating. So these people are not in their habitual personas.

If at work they first prepare themselves by getting their conscious personality out of the way. Still there but to one side so to speak. As a result they will be very sensitive to who is within their direct space. Those directly near them will need to be compatible to them. Lots of people who think they are, are

"News and views"

Many new plans are afoot and this month many will begin to understand where their next placements lie and what to do about it.

So many are learning to activate their spirituality from within their own physical space. We will be doing our best to facilitate this process when requested to do so. Old ways and old systems will no longer work. New and wonderful ways are being quietly introduced.

Creating the space and enabling those who work in them to have the energetic structure required to maximize their service. Blessing them and leaving them to get on with it. To this end the group work that has been provided at Onda Vital in Palma and at the Physiotherapy Clinic in Santa Ponsa are being discontinued as from July 23rd 2009. Nor will there will be telephone work, face to face consultations or email consultations in the immediate future.

A retreat and a holiday first and then future plans will prove that miracles are alive and well. We are all a part of it - enjoy.

not! Second they will prepare the space in which they are to work. If the Great Beings from the light realms choose to want to inform those attending, they will move in.

Very efficient they are too. If we ask them to present at a certain time they are there and they will stay until the needs of the people attending have been met. Only then do they withdraw. It is not easy for these beings to come at all, and it is vital that the space is prepared and cleansed so they are able to move into it without them or us being harmed by the experience.

People attending will not be able to be privy to the same vibration until they have reached the same level, in which case they will be facilitating themselves. That is unless attending an event for research purposes, or for some other reason. But of course, some think they are at that level so are prone to be noisy, to try to take over or to advertise their presence or their wares.

The facilitator will try to create space around them that is conducive to both the more subtle representatives and to themselves. Because when prepared and run up to this higher state the facilitator will be noise, touch and sight sensitive. So they will find it difficult to deal with 'normal' interaction. The same at the end, they will take time to come back down to their usual operating level.

When people are reached by what has been said or what has been given they always want more. So they try to have 'just a word which they did not want to say in group', or they try to hug or kiss you. It will cause the facilitator discomfort and distress.

If there is a need to speak with someone in private, the facilitator will approach the person concerned. It will usually be those who were very tearful, very quiet or silently needy. Rarely will it be the person who just wants more, or to give their opinion on the event. If caught the facilitator will try to get away without being rude or causing offense.

If they are able to they will come in when everyone is assembled and quiet and leave again prior to those attending. Often these days that is not possible, for the intermediary is trying to act as a bridge without others recognizing them. Not because they are ashamed of who they are or what they do. More so they are able to reach people who would be too scared to approach or be approached otherwise.

There is a saying 'fools rush in where angels fear to tread' - more it is those who do not appreciate, understand or those who have little respect, they are the ones who do rush in. Those who really do recognize and appreciate the more subtle levels will recognize others who are light carriers without a word being said.

Then there are those that are sure they are as good if not better at doing what is being proffered. The arrogant and the ambitious. They criticize or try to input. They belittle that which is being represented. They do so to bolster their own ego and get in on the act. They are greedy for time and attention and don't want to listen or to compare experiences. More to talk and to use their contact with the facilitator as best they are able to promote themselves.

They dishonor all in favor of getting what they want. We may let them use and exploit our goods and our chattels but we will not allow them access to our gifts. Even if we wanted to, we would and could not. That is all organized and administered by the Management Upstairs and put into action by the circumstances made available by the Earth Mother.

All people must be honored and none hurt, harmed or excluded. That may mean we will need to encourage those who try to fade into the background. But it will also probably mean we will have to be quite tough with the pushy, until they learn regard and respect the code of conduct that is required for the good of all.

HOW TO CALL THE POLICE WHEN YOU'RE OLD AND DON'T MOVE SO FAST ANYMORE

George Phillips, an elderly man, from Vancouver, B.C., was going up to bed, when his wife told him that he'd left the light on in the garden shed, which she could see from the bedroom window. George opened the back door to go turn off the light, but saw that there were people in the shed stealing things.

He phoned the police, who asked "Is someone in your house?" He said "No," but some people are breaking into my garden shed and stealing from me. Then the police dispatcher said "All patrols are busy. You should lock your doors and an officer will be along when one is available."

George said, "Okay." He hung up the phone and counted to 30. Then he phoned the police again.

"Hello, I just called you a few seconds ago because there were people stealing things from my shed. Well, you don't have to worry about them now because I just shot them." and he hung up.

Within five minutes, six Police Cars, a SWAT Team, a Helicopter, two Fire Trucks, a Paramedic, and an Ambulance showed up at the Phillips' residence, and caught the burglars red-handed. One of the Policemen said to George, "I thought you said that you'd shot them!"

George said, "I thought you said there was nobody available!"

FOR HELP AT THE START

The Middle Wife (contributer not known)

'I've been teaching now for about fifteen years. I have two kids myself, but the best birth story I know is the one I saw in my own second-grade classroom a few years back. When I was a kid, I loved show-and-tell. So I always have a few sessions with my students. It helps them get over shyness and usually show-and-tell is pretty tame. Kids bring in pet turtles, model airplanes, pictures of fish they catch, stuff like that. And I never, ever place any boundaries or limitations on them. If they want to lug it into school and talk about it, they're welcome.

Well, one day this little girl, Erica, a very bright, very outgoing kid takes her turn and waddles up to the front of the class with a pillow stuffed under her sweater. She holds up a snapshot of an infant. 'This is Luke, my baby brother, and I'm going to tell you about his birthday.' 'First, Mum and Dad made him as a symbol of their love, and then Dad put a seed in my Mum's stomach, and Luke grew in there. He ate for nine months through an umbrella cord.'

She's standing there with her hands on the pillow, and I'm trying not to laugh and wishing I had my camcorder with me. The kids are watching her in amazement 'Then, about two Saturdays ago, my Mum starts saying and going, 'Oh, Oh, Oh, Oh!' Erica puts a hand behind her back and groans. 'She walked around the house for, like an hour, 'Oh, oh, oh!' Now this kid is doing a hysterical duck walk and groaning. 'My Dad called the middle wife. She delivers babies, but she doesn't have a sign on the car like the Domino's man. They got my Mum to lie down in bed like this.' Then Erica lies down with her back against the wall. 'And then, pop! My Mum had this bag of water she kept in there in case he got thirsty, and it just blew up and spilled all over the bed, like psshheew!' This kid has her legs spread with her little hands miming water flowing away. It was too much! 'Then the middle wife starts saying 'push, push,' and 'breathe, breathe. They started counting, but never even got past ten. Then, all of a sudden, out comes my brother. He was covered in yucky stuff that they all said it was from Mum's play-center, so there must be a lot of toys inside there.' Then Erica stood up, took a big theatrical bow and returned to her seat. I'm sure I applauded the loudest. Ever since then, when it's show-and-tell day, I bring my camcorder, just in case another 'Middle Wife' comes along.'

happy to try to help you, but I've got to help these people first, and I'm sure we'll be able to work something out.' The passenger was unimpressed. He asked loudly, so that the passengers behind him could hear, 'DO YOU HAVE ANY IDEA WHO I AM?' Without hesitating, the attendant smiled and grabbed her public address microphone: 'May I have your attention please, may I have your

Live every day as if it is your LAST chance to make someone happy!

AND FOR IN BETWEEN

Dealing with rude customers..

For all who work with rude customers, shame WE can't actually do this ! An award should go to the Virgin Airlines desk attendant in Sydney some months ago for being smart and funny, while making her point, when confronted with a passenger who probably deserved to fly as cargo.

A crowded Virgin flight was cancelled after Virgin's 767s had been withdrawn from service. A single attendant was rebooking a long line of inconvenienced travelers.. Suddenly an angry passenger pushed his way to the desk. He slapped his ticket down on the counter and said, 'I HAVE to be on this flight and it HAS to be FIRST CLASS'. The attendant replied, 'I'm sorry, sir. I'll be attention please,' she began - her voice heard clearly throughout the terminal. 'We have a passenger here at Desk 14 WHO DOES NOT KNOW WHO HE IS. If anyone can help him find his identity, please come to Desk 14.' With the folks behind him in line laughing hysterically, the man glared at the Virgin attendant, gritted his teeth and said, 'F... You!' Without flinching, she smiled and said, 'I'm sorry, sir, but you'll have to get in line for that too.'

JUNE IS BUSTING OUT ALL OVER

That is what the song says. Changing and being changed as individuals, as groups, as communities is a happening event it would seem. People are as prepared as they can be but the theory and the practice can seem miles apart when confusion overtakes. There is always grief at the passing of an era and that has to be managed, organized and administered. Probably a good thing as it gives focus and encourages baby steps. Giant strides are impossible under the circumstances but it does not stop us from trying to take them. Then there is the apprehension of not downright fear as to what we are getting ourselves into next.

Confusion reigns all around us. Important that we stay as still as we are able to, keep our link open towards both the heaven and the earth. Order comes out of chaos but it is difficult to remember that when in the midst of a move. Do we trust ourselves not to react in a hostile manner, to be able to keep the peace if need be.

Do we accept the need to be natural and if we are irritable do we admit it? Apologize if need be and laugh at our antics. Our true friends will be hugely helpful if we let them. Ask what they think, listen to their reply. If they are really good tried and trusted friends they will sock it to us if need be, but they will also support and encourage us. They will not give their opinion unasked for - thank goodness! Nor will they be patronizing. If asked however, bet your bottom dollar their reply is worth its weight in gold. I am so very grateful for my good friends, they have been tried and trusted through years and have never been found wanting. Life's challenges would have been much more grim and lonely without them. Even though we are rarely located in the same place and if we are it is only for a few months, I hope they know how much they are valued and trusted.

THE INVENTORY

To find out what we do want it is a useful exercise to know what we definitely do not want anymore. Last month when facilitating a group that I knew would be far from easy I was shocked. How did I know it would be difficult - it was a re-run of an incident that had occurred months before which had carried a psychic challenge. Would we be able to push it through to the spiritual realms or would we have another 'at risk' situation this time.

We got through to the spiritual realms without incident and returned the same way. It was not easy and not to the usual standard but it was OK. So what shocked? The reaction of some of the participants. They were not inclusive they appeared selfish, cruel, unkind, and lacking in sensitivity for others who had as much right as they did to be attending

So what do I know? I want all to feel honored within the collective. A space and place where there is kindness as well as care. Yes, opinions should be aired but in a manner that does not represent selfishness, greed, ambitions or hostility of any kind. Neither attacking another or justifying the self. No-one should feel they must defend or be defensive because another feels they have been inconvenienced.

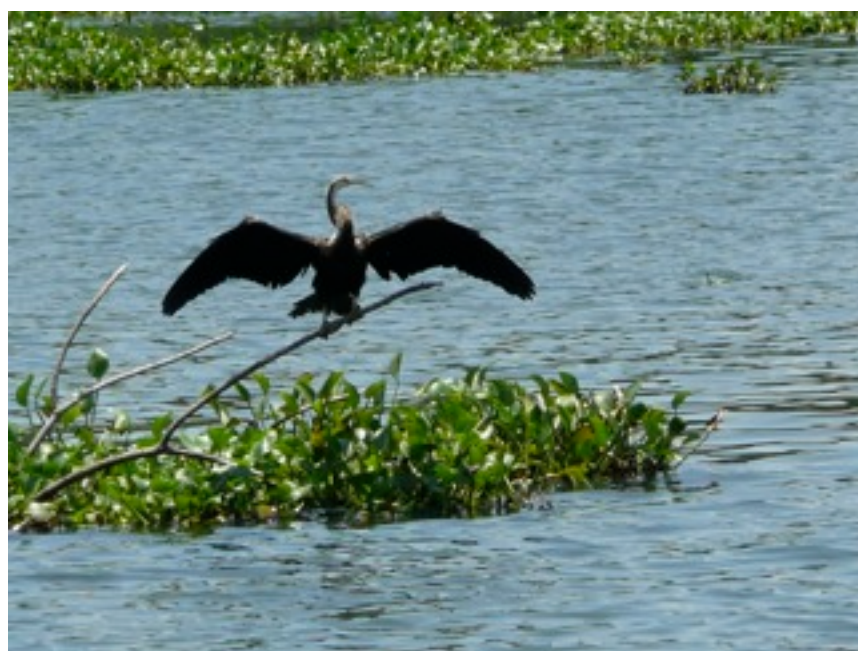

Nor do I want to be in places where people are used, exploited or abused. I don't want to be in spaces or places where others are grabbed and made to commit to another's business proposition. Where the spiritual space is used to make dates or create social connections. What does seem helpful is for people who attend to have the opportunity to state the type of work they are in and for others in a similar field to have the opportunity to compare notes if they wish to. That way they can see if there is any common ground where each others input could benefit all.

As so often happens the ambitious and the greedy shout the loudest, and the ones who have real 'clout' keep quiet. They are the ones with the ethics and codes of conduct that will prove invaluable in times to come. We need apparently unfortunate things to happen to enable us to find out what we do not want. Despite the anxiety and the irritation it will give us a clear view our truth and are clear in our attitude. Then it becomes our prayer and so the universe moves in and adjusts the energy patterns accordingly. There are no free passes we must all do our own work. Only when we are really clear what we want have we earned the right to potentially get it. Even then it will show up in unexpected ways so remain of what we do want in the coming times. When we are clear and able to understand, we tell watchful and aware. All the time we are discussing and asking others, there is a need to hold back and wait. In life the time to move is when we are excited and telling others what we just did. We must be careful not to disempower ourselves or others when our opinion is asked for. People are usually looking for re=assurance rather than advice. That is not true if it is a specialized subject but it certainly is regards moving on in life.

To our surprise when the shock occurs it meets with the apathy of old routines, and before we know it we are ready for the new project. Now clear as to what is acceptable and what is not. No judgement just recognition. So we are able to trust the surge forward and be carried, as we are moved from where we were, to where we are going. By knowing we do not know we surrender to the will of our soul. Then the Great Beings from both the subtle realms and the earth intelligence move in and show us the way. Only when we are really able to let go can we surrender and be shown. Someone who thinks they already know can be shown nothing. We act as a partner to the greater but a junior partner. When policy is set we do the work that goes to implement that policy. Now all in agreement and on the same side with the same intention.

Like minded people with skills that compliment endeavors that benefit all need to know they are equal one to another. And to truly value each others skills. That way all know who is the best person for the job in hand and they do not mind that it may not be them! We cannot nor should we be all things to all people.

The old saying 'pride comes before a fall is oh so true. If we delude ourselves to think we are better than we are, we come unstuck. We earn our right to placement and there are no free passes, regardless of who we may say we know! We can't just shake someone's hand and make out we are friends, we will be caught out and any credibility we might have had will be lost. If we decide it is one way and the other party does not agree someone has to be disappointed. If we are too pushy we find ourselves pushed out! If we are too timid we are not available. But if we are out and about, even if we are at home most of the time, wonderful things begin to happen. We meet people with no effort. We may think we are meeting them for one reason that turns into quite another. This way we reclaim the wonder of life and are in awe of the management both upstairs and down.

OLD GHOSTS RETURN

As circuits complete themselves we will not understand what is going on. We need to take a step back, detach from the immediate happenings and observe ourselves. We may like ourselves responding in a manner that is out of current character. When a chapter of living ends we meet ourselves coming back so to speak.

We are inconvenienced within own process. We have no thought or consideration for what might be happening on more subtle levels or problems that were caused for others. We think only what we think we need for ourselves. Speaking our current truth regardless of the harm it may be doing.

Those who dish out their desire to sacrifice or persecute are a mob and are reenacting the witch hunters of old at work in todays world within an updated manner. That hostility and cruel delivery has no place anymore - truly thank the Lord. They will meet their own behaviors at some time in their future, I pray they can handle it.

What can be done? Forgiveness of them. Then the need to feel used, abused, exploited is eliminated. They will go on in their old ways but you will free and be freed once and for all time. To this end we have to observe our responses. Only when we trust ourselves to be gracious and honest and be in a good humor should we proceed. If we are still sulking, or having a tantrum or wanting what we want now, then we should take a step back and catch up with how we want to be now rather than how we might once have been.

Only when we can trust ourselves to be positive and to have a good and light attitude are we ready to proceed. And others may take some convincing that we have changed. We will need the stamina to be consistent before others will run the risk of trusting us let alone accept us within their spaces. Respect is earned not demanded.

